In the advertisement for proposals for groceles, for the use of the county, goods of eastern manufacture are specified in two instances which bars out bids from Nebraska manufacturers. The articles to which we would call your attention are starch, which is specified as Silver Gloss or Lily White, and Canadian oatmeal. Both starch and oatmeal of first class quality are made in Nebraska, We would respectfully request that you take such action as will allow our Nebraska manufacturers to bid on these articles. Your attention is also called to the fact that you specify winter wheat flour, little of which is manufactured or used in this section. We would further request that you give the preference to goods of Nebraska manufacturer in the purchase of all supplies chamerated in the pre-

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE. 513 FOURTEENTH STREET, Washington, D. C., March I.

Although no official information has been received at the War department in reference to the reported threat of court martialing Captain John Bourke of the Third cavalry on the charge of Texans that he exceeded his authority in the recent Garza campaign, much is said about it on the streets here in army circles. No one appears to really believe that the captain will be court martialed, on the contrary he may receive special mention at the hands of the secretary of war for special gallantry. Today's Washington Post has an editorial on the subject in which it says: "There has no doubt been more or less collision between the civil and military authorities and it may be that the charges against Captain Bourke have substantial foundation, but there is little question in the minds familiar with the situation that in the capturing and disposing of the Garza revolution he has been aggra-vated by the fact that they have many griends on the American side of the Rio Grande who are not giving much aid or comfort to the United States troops. Captain Bourke may have had trouble in dealing with this sentiment and by excess of zeal have given cause of complaint, but an army of occupation, no matter how legitimate its

The complaints against Captain Bourke have been unofficially received. They are to the effect that he made promiscuous arrests of good citizens, indulged in unwarrantable seizures of property, committed many acts of crueity and perpetrated numerous indignities which have greatly disturbed the peace of orderly communities and seriously damaged their agricultural interests. The War department will undoubtedly stand by Captain

In Nebraska's Behalf.

The familiar figure of Patrick O'Brannon Hawes toddled into the capitol this morning and took a sent in Senator Paddock's com-mittee room. Judge Hawes looked cheerful mittee room. Judge Hawes looked cheerful and happy. He anticipated a twenty days' stay in Washington on business, with an incidental trip to Baitimore to consult an aurist for his hearing, which he asserts has been somewhat impaired by the Keeley treatment at Blair. Judge Hawes says very frankly that while he has no longer any desire to 'set 'em up" to the boys he does want to hear distinctly every political word that drops in the vicinity of Douglas county. His main business, however, in Washington is to secure for Nebraska the $19,000 of direct tax which is due to her under the direct tax bill passed by the Fifty-first congress and to collect in addition some $9,000 or $10,000 under the laws reimbursing frontier states for the suppression of Indian hostilities.

In 1861 when the government levied a direct tax of $20,000.000 on the various states for the suppression of the rebeilion, Nebraska was assessed $19,000 or more as her share. The territorial legislature failed to levy and turn over the tax, but at the next session of congress when the sundry civil bill was taken, $19,000 was deducted from the estimates for the paying of the running ex-penses of the territory and credited to her indebtedness on the direct tax call.

Refused to Pay the Money.

In 1887, when the government was about to pay the ast installment of money to reim-burse Nebraska for her expenses in sup-pressing Indian hostilities and when draft was about to issue, Comptroller Lawrence refused to turn the money over on the ground that Nebraska was still in debt for the

In looking over the acts of congress Judge Hawes discovered the record of payment through retention of appropriation and sub-sequently Judge Lawrence caused a clause to be inserted in a general appropriation bill evidencing Nebrasha as discharged of this obligation. Red tape has, hewever, got the matter again tangled up and Hawes proposes to cut it until its untangled. Juage Hawes is also gunning after an unpaid balance Paddock and Maederson at Washington:

We wish to call your attention to the iron work for the new Un ted States customs house, court house and postofflee for Omaha, that the specifications call for the Pheenix steel column, which is a patent and only manufactured by the Pheenix mills of Philadelphia, making a monopoly for said company, barring out all other competitors and causing the government additional expense, As you know, our appropriation is none too large for the building as now proposed.

The iron in the present letting is only a small part of the amount required to compiste the structure, and the use of this patent column determines an additional expense to the government over similar construction of cast or other steel work.

We would recommend that the supervising architect call for new bids on the iron work for the basement of said building, specifying both steel and cast iron construction, thereby inviting 100 ordinors bidders if accessary to secure to the government the lowest price for all interested. Further, cast iron columns of equal requirements, and equal or superior tests, are of iess cost and invite more public of $9,000 due Nebraska for reimbursement of expenditures for suppressing Indian hostili-ties. The money is withheld on technical objections to various suspended items, for which the state, however, holds evidence of payment in both drafts and vouchers. Cor. roboratory evidence is required in a number of these items and a considerable amount has been seenred.

Mrs. Elizabeth D. Brown's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth D. Brown, mother of Mrs. Charles F. Manderson, took place this afternoon from the temporary resi-dence of Senator Manderson on Sevent enth A snow storm was in progress, but the halls and parlors were filled with syn daughter part of the time for years, and her simplicity of mainers and gentleness of dis-position had endeared her to many with whom she had been thrown in contact in Washington. The middle partor of the residence was reserved for the family. Senator and Mrs. Manderson, the senator's Mrs. Evans of Philadelphia, her two ad daughter-in-law, the Misses Dike oklyn, Colonel and Mrs. Ludington and the family servants were the occupants. In the rear parior sat the vice president and Mrs. Morton, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Summers and daughter and William A. Guyer and daughter of Omaha, a large number of senators and their wives and many friends of the family in official and civil life. Senator Paddock was the only member of Nebraska's delegation in attendance. The buria service was read by Chaplain Butler of the United States senate and a few remarks and a short closing prayer by Dr. Hamiin of the Church of the Covenant concluded the simple services. The remains were taken this evening to Canton, O., for interment, accom-panied by Senator and Mrs. Manderson.

Record of the Democrats.

Congress has been in session three months and today the house succeeded in passing the Indian appropriation bills which congress has passed in order to enable the machiner, The only other appropriation bill which has been sent to the senate was that providing for the military academy. These two ap-propriations are the ones which always excite the least debate. Both have, in a number of instances, been passed in one day republican houses. In the form which this house has passed these two bills it is certain that the consumption of time on them is not at an end, for the senate will make ents which will provoke almost as much debate as has already been had them. Thus the two smallest appropriation bills will consume more than a month of time in this house. The net result of the labors of the democratic majority thus far is two appropriation bills, one bill gagging the press and a batch of private claims

Brief Talk About the Matter-Will Defer the Viaduct Building-Switching Ordinance Read-Some Vetoes Received and Sustained.

The old members of the Fire and Police commission still hold their jobs, and in being able to hold them they can thank a majority of the members of the city council.

At the council meeting held last night Con Gailagher, G. W. Shields and D. Clem Deaver, who were recently appointed by Governor Boyd, presented their bonds for approval.

Gallagher's bond was the first to be read, and almost before the reading was completed, Mr. Tuttle moved that the bond be approved and the appointment confirmed. "I move that the motion may upon the table," exclaimed Mr. Specht. "Don't see how you can table this," interrupted Mr. Elsasser. "Before we get through we will show you how it's done," answered Mr. Chaffee. The roll was called, and the vote to table was as follows: Yeas-Messrs. Back, Bruner, Chaffee, E4wards, Jacobson, McLearle, Monroe, Prince, Specht, Steel and Mr. President-10.

Navs-Messrs, Bechel, Burdish, Conway,

Elsasser, Howell and Tuttle-6. Mr. Elsasser declared that the course adopted and pursued by the majority was a disgrace and a bleeding shame. All of the members knew Mr. Gallagher and they knew that his bondsmen, Fred W. Gray and Tom Swobe, were guilt edged. Any man who would stoop so low as to question the apointment and the bondsmen was in mighty mail business. President Davis delared that Mr. Elsasse was out of order, and informe! him that if he intended to insult the councilmen bo would be removed from the room. Mr. Elsasser stated that he was merely ex-James H. Woodburn, Joseph Ashley, James E. Carter, Henry B. Tucker. Original widows, etc.—Mary A. Grace.

Mr. Prince took the issue. He thought that the dirty work was on the democratic side of the house, and an effort was being made to throw mud at Howard B. Smith, George I. Gilbert and Chris Hartman, the old members of the commission. If there was any disgrace in tabling the appointment of Gallagher, he was willing to share the

The appointment of Shields and Deaver went to the table in company with that of Gallagher. Then the following resolution was introduced by Mr. Chaffee:

Discussing the Viaduct. The next passage at arms was when the ordinance declaring the necessity of recon-structing the viaduct over Sixteenth street eas read a third time. was read a third time.

Mr. Chaffee stated that if the viaduct was constructed it would cost the city at least $40,000. The city would have to build a portion of the viaduct and the approaches.

Mr. Elsasser stated that the city attorney had drawn the ordinance. He favored its passage, as delays were dangerous. Mr. Monroe was sure that the city would not have to pay a cent. The matter had been thoroughly investigated and the whole amount could be taxed against the ranroads. City Attorney Connoll could not see how the city would be compelled to pay any of the costs. If the expense could not be taxed against the railroads, it could be assessed at any person.

Mr. Elsasser's motion was defeated and the committee was given one week in which to make up its report.

Regulating Switching Charges. Then to vary the monotony this ordinance was introduced by Mr. Prince of the committee on railways:

An ordinance regulating the use of certain streets and alleys by railroad comp nies for switching purposes in the city of Omiha. © Be it ordained by the city council of the city of Omaha: of Omahu:
Section I. The right and authority to use that part of the several streets and alleys which has heretofore or which may hereafter be authorized by ordinance to be used for constructing or operating railroad tracks thereon is hereby granted to any and all railroad combanes mover hereafter existing or doing business in the city of Omaha, for switching such ears thereon which may be necessary for the use, benefit and accommodation of stores, warehouses, factories or other buildings now or hereafter orected along the same, subject to the terms and conditions contained in this ordinance or may hereafter be negoticed by rdinance or may bereafter be provided by any amendment thereto.

sidewalks, came up, Mr. Conway stated that there had been some underhanded work in letting the contract. The bids had been pened in the office of the Board of Public Works and some contractors had got pointers Mr. Elsassor remarked that that was a serious charge. He demanded that Mr. Conway be more specific. Mr. Couway failed to justify and the bond was approved. Some Vetoes Sustained.

The mayor vetoed the ordinance providing for grading the alley in block 3, Campbell's addition. He thought that the alley should be graded by a direct levy, rather than by having the payment made by the sale of improvement bonds. The veto was rejected.

The ordinance providing for the location of wash basins in certain offices in the city hall was vetoed and the veto was sustained. The mayor also vetoed the contract of Raymond Bros. for constructing the bridge over the arm of Cut-Off lake on the line of Ames avenue, rie did not think the general fund could stand the drain of $2,500 that would be required as the city's share for constructing the bridge. He also had some doubts about the eastern approach of the bridge being in the state of Nebraska. The veto was sustained. The mayor submitted a communication from the Board of Health and also called the attention of the council to the necessity of having an emergency hospital.

The mayor handed in a communication which referred to the city hall. He thought the council should at once decide upon all proposed changes in the interior finish. The communication was referred.

DEEP MUTTERINGS OF A COMING STORM

Will Close a Deal With the Santa Fe and Missouri Pacific - Council Bluffs Jobbers are Intefering in

The managers of the Iowa railroads may magine that the demand of the Omaha jobbers for the abrogation of the bridge toll can be brushed aside and effectually quieted, but they are liable to have their eyes opened some day by the discovery of a large sized boycott against their times.

General Manager Holdrege of the B. & M. and General Manager Burt of the Elkhorn are reported as having favored the petition of Omaha at the Chicago meeting, but they were overruled.

The members of the Omaha Commercial association have reached the conclusion that the railroads will make no concessions unless forced to do it, and the jobbers are making preparations to inaugurate the proposed boy cott on the Iowa lines. An understanding has been reached with the Santa Fe and the Missouri Pacific for the use of these lines on shipments between Chicago and Omaha. The route will be by the Santa Fe to Kansas City and theree by the Missouri Pacific to Omaha. This line will be 150 to 175 miles longer than the lowa rairroads, but the rate will be the same. The two roads concerned will make a division on a basis of 60 per cent to the Santa Fe and 40 per cent to the Missour

There was a disposition among Omaha jobbers to take quick action, but now there is talk of waiting until the lowa legislature has adjourned.

Spencer Smith, one of the Iowa railroad commissioners, has had himself interviewed for publication and threatens retaliation upon the lowa lines if they grant Omaha's demand. Mr. Smith is a Council Bluffs man, which accounts for his action. The lowa legisla-ture is not making rates but the lowa railroad commission is, and it will continue in the business even after the legislature has adjourned. Some of the jobbers, there fore, favor immediate action, and there is some discussion of a schema to put up a bar between Council Bluffs jobbers and their

Nebraska ousiness if they play the dog in the manger in this bridge toll matter.

At any rate the jobbers of Omaha mean to have fair play, and the lowaltness must grant it or lose an enormous colume of freight business between eastern south Omaha Democrats Have Divided Their Forces Early This Year. The democratic mass meeting which was held at Pivonka's hall on Twenty-fourth street last evening was literally a "howling" success. The two opposing factions of the party were out in full force. Each was determined to carry its point, and when they met the collision generated electricity sufficient to run the entire are light system of the city.

The hall was crowded when John C. Carroll rapped to order, and it was not long before the point at issue between the contesting factions was broached.

A vacancy exists on the city central committee and each party was anxious to have a man of its choice placed in the vacant position. Mayor Sloane and Eli H. Doud, representing the Johnson faction, wanted the vacancy filled by the other members of the central committee, who are supposed to be in sympathy with Mr. Johnson's mayoralty as-pirations. John McMillan and others who favor E. B. Towle as their candidate for mayor, contended that the vacancy should be filled by the people at a mass meeting. The conflict was long and bitter and ended in an apparent victory for the Johnson contingent.

Questions of Personal Privilege. Mayor Sloane said that according to law the central committee had both the right and the power to fill the existing vacancy. Mr. McMillan jumped to his feet to inform the mayor that if he knew as much about law as a last year's bird's nest he would know betr than to make such an assertion.

The electric liashes began to appear. A dozen men veciferously claimed the attention of the chair and remarks anything but com-plimentary were exchanged.

Barney McDermott attempted to make a speech when Tim Maloney interrupted him to accuse him and his colleagues of holding star chamber session in a back room of Pioneer block Monday night to buildoze the people and defraud honest voters of their Chairman Carroll finally succeeded in restoring something like order and Mr. Doud moved that the city central committee be allowed the same privileges it had when it was elected one year ago. The motion prevailed, and as the committee originally possessed the power to fill vacancies, the Johnson crowd nsidered its point carried and withdraw. Those who remained proceeded to organize a First Ward Democratic club, with the folowing officers: President, John C. Carroll rice president, George Parks; secretary John Fitzgerald; assistant secretary, Judge Levi; treasurer, P. J. McMahon. The presi-dent was authorized to appoint an executive

Why Dr. Price's Baking Powder is Superior to all others.

No great efforts are made by other manufacturers to procure and use pure materials.

It is true that one other company has the facilities, but its greed and cupidity induced it in an evil hour to use ammonia, in order to swell its profits. Hence the Price Baking Pewder Company stands alone in its fight for a pure baking powder.

No other article of human food receives greater care in its production, or has attained higher perfection. Dr. Price's Cream is surely a perfect baking powder. Free from every taint of impurity. No other article used in the kitchen has so many steadfast friends among the housewives of America.

The fourth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young was made occasion of a pleasant surprise party at their residence, Twenty-first and H streets, last evening. High five, music and refreshments were among the enjoyments of the evening. The social given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Evers, Nineteenth and M streets, by the ladies of the Episcopal church last evening was one of the most enjoyable of the series. Selections of vocal and instrumental music varied the evening's entertainment and high five and other games assisted the large company present to pass a pleasant evening.
